

Wandsworth Historical Society

Wandsworth Historian no. 109

Spring 2020

The murderer Frederick Browne shortly after he was arrested in January 1928.

A survey of Putney in early-Tudor times, an unspeakably wicked murder linked to 1920s Battersea that still makes the blood run cold, and the end of Wandsworth's trolley-buses in 1960. These are just some of the articles featuring in the latest Wandsworth Historian. Other items reflect on the acrimonious discussions in 1890 over the new Battersea Bridge and the bombing of the Cinderella Dancing Club in Putney in 1943.

The Wandsworth Historian (ISSN 1751-9225) is published by the Wandsworth Historical Society, and copies are available price £3.00 plus £1.50 for P&P from Neil Robson, 119 Heythorp Street, London SW18 5BT or by emailing 020neil119@gmail.com. Please make cheques payable to the 'Wandsworth Historical Society'. On-line payment also accepted.

The website address of the Wandsworth Historical Society is www.wandsworthhistory.org.uk.

19 March 2020